PRESENTATION

Nothing stays the same.

Nor can the mind capture and hold unchanged
The thoughts, visions, and happenings that surround us now.

For this reason, we have tried to make your 1958 LANTHORN
a picture book.

So that in the years to come

You may—by looking through this book—be transported back to

The mystical, wonderful days of your college life.

DEDICATION

When we first met him we were impressed by his title and—perhaps a little afraid.
Then . . . As we came into closer contact with him . . .
We saw the twinkle in his eye . . .
And we discovered his wonderful sense of humor.
His personality influences the entire campus
Which he has served with dignity for many years.
We dedicate our yearbook to Dean Galt . . .
For he will always remain in our hearts
As an inspiration to us.

RETROSPECT

The air is still,
The din of four years has been temporarily muffled by graduation . . .
a sheepskin . . .
and a future . . .
You are gone from the scene; those campus paths
Where once you mingled are now peopled by only the trees.
Ageless trees,
timeless trees,
guarding your Alma Mater,
Susquehanna University

"Whose trees might whisper secrets grave,
amusing,
and profound."

A breeze stirs; the leaves flutter filling the mind with Memories . . .
As tender as the first bud of a new leaflet,
As proud as the garb of full bloom,
As mature as the mountains that surround us.
Memories that drop about you all brightly colored as the leaves of the fall.

Seniors: whom we have watched,
loved, and prepared for the storms of life . . .
And whom we shall remember fondly through the years.
As we remain, steadfast and silent,
to keep vigil over new faces,
we would whisper these our secrets to you . . .

Welcome Freshmen!

From all over you came to us . . .

frightened but eager.

And soon you ventured down our paths and were greeted.

"Hi" . . .

And you felt a part of us.

All those freshman regulations:

Use the side entrance . . .

Square your dink . . .

Hazing . . . Cuts . . .

All pleasant memories now that you have played a part in this tradition.

Homecoming . . .

You join in the cry, "Beat Wilkes."

You met the Sophs on common battleground and did you win?

No matter, you tacked your dink on your bulletin board along with the fraternity favor . . .

star course program . . .

And the stubs from your first movie date.

Mid-semesters! Exams! Fear! Irregular Verbs!

Cramming and trying to learn the Secret that would keep you out of the "forty per cent."

Rushing . . . Confusion . . . and you make a real Decision.

You were now a part of a group, a segment of the campus.

Crisp, cool fall nights and you thought you were in love;

A serenade . . . college was already passing too quickly.

Christmas, the Frat party,

Caroling,

Counting days 'til vacation . . . then counting days 'til you'd return.

Returning to face Mid-semesters,

Goodspeed, Natural Science,

and snackbar coffee.

A year spent gaining knowledge and advice . . .

confidence . . .

new friends . . .

Excitement . . . activity . . . dynamic vigor . . .

intense exertion . . . pep . . .

a Sophomore!

This year you said "Hi" to the new Freshmen.

Revenge was yours . . .

Sophomore Tribunal,

Hell night,

Upperclassman status!

Completing required courses . . .
     English Literature
         Philosophy
         Botany
 And your philosophy of life was taking form.
     You were gaining knowledge,
         Poise,
         Dignity.
 In between studying for tests you prepared for the Interfraternity sing,
         planned a smoker,
         prepared the "Float"
                                     for the homecoming parade.
 Intramurals . . .
     "The Heiress" . . .
         "The Late George Apley."
 Little Norway and ice skating . . . Semesters and a two point average try-outs . . . "Romeo and Juliet" . . .
     The career conference and the reminder that you must decide by the end of the year the course you would pursue . . .

Sophistication! Your Junior year . . .

The Prom plans,

LANTHORN,

Orientation, and Student Council.

More exams,

Homecoming representatives,

. . . and no time for Pinochle
in the snack bar.

The problems of a Proctor or a Counselor and learning to deal effectively with faculty and students.

In your field you were becoming confident,

full of self possession and at ease . . .

You had mastered the art of term papers and references . . .

When you weren't called on, you volunteered . . .

So much preparation,

So very little time,

the extremes of your aspirations congealing.

You were growing up and it would soon be over.

Semesters . . .

"Hamlet" . . .

May Day . . .

The Spring Formal . . .
     and you proudly wore his fraternity pin!
 Life was taking form.
     Shakespeare . . . Seminars . . .
         Scholarships . . . Graduate work . . .
         Advanced accounting and achievement.
 The realization of that last summer vacation.
     The delightful, yet sobering thought that you'd be returning for your last year . . .

Seniorhood!
     Caps and Gowns!
         Student teaching!
         Registration and interviews . . .
 Future hopes mingled with present contentment.
     Organization offices . . .
 You approach the height of so many accomplishments.
     Homecoming Queen . . .
         The Coronation . . .

Sorority sisters looking to you for guidance and leadership.
         Brotherhood!
 Loyalty! Spirit!
     Footprints and shadows, and long walks with . . .

Changes . . . evidence of a new "Conservatory,"
     A winning year,
         and changes within you.
 Seriousness combined with the prospects of a teaching job,
         graduate or medical school,
         wedding plans,
                                 and your last Christmas . . .

Last Chance to attend Star Course . . .
         make Dean's List . . .
         Who's Who . . .
                 Scholarship Cup and Stagg Trophy.
 "Midsummer Night's Dream" . . .
     Your day . . . Commencement . . .
 Proudly you walked down the same path where you
     Had heard your first cheery "Hi" four years ago.
     You walk to the Graduation Ceremony . . .
         into the future . . .

A new path . . . lined with new trees . . .
     but eternally faithful, we remain and await your return to us
     in fond retrospect,
                     at Homecomings, for solace,
 And to renew the secrets you shared with us.
     Depart, but remember always, our secrets.
 Through the long years
     We, the Trees,
         shall silently stand here guarding
         your treasure and your prayer:
 "O Alma Mater, guide thou our footsteps
     Down the long pathway of numberless years.
 So shall we always revere thy dear memory.
     I hail Susquehanna, Reign midst the peers!"

NUMBER 12

Sorority Rush Week Begins February 3

Panhellenic Council will hold a tea for all non-sorority women Sunday, February 3, from 2-4 p. m. in Seibert Parlors. Formal rushing will begin Monday when those girls who wish to rush will sign up in Miss Ruth Meister's office.

The following is the schedule for sorority rushing:

Monday 12:30-1:10—Informal open house in the sorority rooms; the upperclass women of the new group will meet with the freshmen in the social room.

Monday 10:00 p. m.—The presidents of the sororities will visit Hallsinger Hall and answer any questions which the girls may have.

Tuesday 8:00 p. m.—Open house in the sorority rooms; the girls may visit all three groups.

Wednesday 12:30-1:00—Open house in the sorority rooms.

Thursday 7:30-11:00 p. m.—ADPi party in the social room.

Friday 7:30-11:00 p. m.—KD party in the social room.

From Friday at 11:00 p. m. until Saturday noon there will be a period of silence during which the girls are not supposed to talk about rushing. On Saturday morning the girls who wish to pledge will sign up in Miss Meister's office. The bids will be sent out in the afternoon. Parties for the pledges will be held at 4 p. m. in the sorority rooms.

The Panhellenic Dance, in honor of the pledges, will be held February 23. ADPi and KD have invited SAI to participate in this dance. Members of the new group have been invited as guests.

SU PRESS PRINTS "HILL DOCTOR"

This week saw the appearance of a new book published by the Susquehanna University Press, entitled Hill Doctor, written by Dr. Frederic Brush. Dr. Arthur H. Wilson, chairman of the Press, edited the book of 16 pages and also contributed the introduction.

Dr. Brush, who is now 86 years old, lives at White Plains, New York where in earlier years he was chief of the Burke Foundation for Heart Convalescents, located there. He was born and grew up in Susquehanna County, near the great bend of the Susquehanna River, and his book draws its material largely from recollections of life in the Northern Tier of Pennsylvania: the pioneering days, the logging, stone-cutting, frontier hardships, feuds and social life. Dr. Brush has made a name for himself not only as a leader in the field of modern medicine but also as one of the best balladists and storytellers in twentieth-century Pennsylvania.

The present book, Hill Doctor, marks the tenth volume issuing from the Susquehanna University Press in the last twenty-one years. Currently on the press is the Centennial history due in 1958.

***
Appearing in the forthcoming monthly issue of the "Physical Therapy Review" of New York is an article by Frances Dunlop Alterman, M. A., entitled "Pott's Paraplegia: A Case Study in Total Treatment."

Mrs. Alterman, now an instructor in voice on the faculty at Susquehanna is also a qualified physical therapist and the case study which she reports in her article was the result of her observations while serving as Chief of Physical Therapy at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Oteen, North Carolina, in recent years.

Invite Campers To Workshop

At the previous meeting of the class officers, chairmen of the various committees were decided upon. They are: decorations; Betsy Walker and Glenn Showalter; set up, Carl Catherman; clean up, Lester Rudisill; entertainment, Bill Woelkers and Andy Melnick; tickets and programs, Lois Kohl; refreshments, Judi Anderson. The entire sophomore class was asked to cooperate.

all is not well. my windows, a leads are trying ata in perpara-tests. It's fairly scattered voicea he expect us But minds soon a on "the stuff" and he minutes tick by unrelentlessly. This is hardly my first experience with those somewhat "necessary evils", semester tests, and although I have changed, just as the tests have changed, the attitudes of youth toward them have not changed. I should know, for after all I hear things told in strictest confidence. Those words not to be told "to a single soul." I haven't divulged the least little iota of information but sometimes I do wish I too could get things "off my chest." But then who would listen to me since I'm considered one of the "older generation."

Understand now, I'm not bitter about anything that's happened to me. I think I've got quite a lot to be proud of and even though I may be a little tarnished around the edges I still present a prominent figure around here. When you come right down to it I'm the center of social life and there are always young people around to help pass the time. It's only at times like this, in the middle of the night, that I start to feel my age and the chilly winds seem to penetrate to the very heart of me just as if my heating system were shut off for the night.

Speaks to Biemic

Biemic Society held its regular meeting Monday, January 21, 1957. The guest speaker for this meeting was Dr. T. D. Nunheimer head of the microbiology group at the Cherokee Research Department of Merck & Co., Inc. The topic discussed was "The Present Status of Antibiotics." It was enlightening to know the amount that could be done with antibiotics. It was indeed a pleasure to have Dr. Nunheimer speak on a subject that concerns each and everyone today. The next meeting of Biemic will be held February 11, 1957.

Junior Class Song

We join our hands in friendship strong,
United in our strife,
And as we spend our hours here
Teach us a Way of Life
Unchallenged, pure and unsurpassed
In all our joy and pain
Our College days our path divine
And our Eternal Gain.

In '58 we'll leave these halls
To follow through our days
Our separate and honor'd calls
To gain or lose our praise
O Susquehanna! be with us
Throughout the years to come,
And let our hearts in time of stress
Recall our "second home."

And though the days will pass too soon,
We'll have our memories,
Our days of school, and times of fun,
Among thy shadowed leas
O Susquehanna! leave us not.
Our hearts are joined with thine,
Abide with us, reside in us,
From endless Time to Time.

Tune of "America the Beautiful"
Words by JAMES KILGORE

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Editor wishes to express appreciation to:

Mr. James Frailey and Mr. Barnard Taylor of the Grit Publishing Company for their expert help, and much appreciated concern.

Mr. James Yoder, Prim Studios, for his photographic assistance and understanding.

Dr. Arthur Wilson and Miss Jean Beamenderfer, our capable faculty advisers.

Bob Kenyon for his sports photography.

The entire Staff for their co-operation and undaunted humor.

Members of the Junior Class, who were always willing to help.

The Student Body for a year of patience.

The Advertisers for making this book possible.

With a humble "thank you," the Editor wishes to give special recognition to:

Mr. Stevens for his photography shots of the campus and the faculty. He unselfishly gave of his time, and his encouragement.

Don Trimmer for his prose ability, and constant aid.

The commercial photography in the LANTHORN is the work of the Prim Studios, Mount Carmel, Pennsylvania. The general photography is by Mr. Stevens and Bob Kenyon. The book was published by the Grit Publishing Company, Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

SIGNS OF PROGRESS

A community is made up of a number of things—the caliber of its citizens and public servants . . . the high standards of its schools and the sportsmanship of its athletic teams . . . the leadership of its churches . . . the good accomplished by its charitable organizations . . . the quality of products and services supplied by its workers.

Wood-Metal Custom Kitchens and Institutional Equipment are as fine as are produced anywhere! They carry the Snyder County name and brand of superior craftsmanship to all parts of the country.
